

STEVEN PAUL NISTICO

Steven Paul Nistico graduated in Rome and is Professor of Dermatology at the University of Catanzaro, Italy.

He has been appointed Research Fellow at the University College of London, UK, and coordinates a Master Degree Course at the University of Rome Tor Vergata, Italy.

His interests are related to light-skin interaction for the diagnosis and treatment of skin diseases, lasers and energy devices for dermatological and cosmetic indications.

He is author of several publications in the field and attended many international conferences. Scientific coordinator of the Italian Group for Lasers in Dermatology (GILD) and board member of the Italian Society for Lasers in Dermatology (SILD). Coordinator of the Promotion group for the Italian organizing committee for the WCD 2019.