

PIETRO QUAGLINO

Pietro Quaglino born 1968, dermatologist, is Associate Professor of Dermatology at the Department of Medical Sciences, University of Turin Medical School. He obtained the National Scientific Qualification as Full Professor in 2013.

His main field of interest for clinical and research activities are melanoma, cutaneous lymphoma and immune dermatology. His experience in the field of melanoma ranges from the early diagnosis to the treatment of the advanced phase disease. He is the principal investigator of several clinical trials in melanoma and cutaneous lymphoma.

He is board member of the GIPMe (Gruppo Italiano Polidisciplinare sul Melanoma), board member and treasurer since 2017 of the IMI (Italian Melanoma Intergroup, chairman of the EORTC Cutaneous Lymphoma Task Force and member of the Board Directors of the ISCL (International Society for Cutaneous Lymphoma).

He has published more than 160 peer-reviewed scientific papers.

Prof. Quaglino is Assistant Editor of the Giornale Italiano di Dermatologia e Venereologia, reviewer of international journals on dermatology and referee for ANVUR (National Agency for the Evaluation of Universities and Research Institutes).