

24TH WORLD CONGRESS
OF DERMATOLOGY
MILAN 2019

CARMEN RODRIGUEZ-CERDEIRA

is a Principal Scientist and Professor of Infectious Disease, working in hospital and university in Vigo, Spain. She is the Chairwoman of the Department of Medical and Infection Research at in Nursing School of Ourense (University of Vigo). She spent his career in performing various epidemiological studies and basic research on Sexually Transmitted Infectious and drives some investigation projects of importance to his country. She is consulter senior of Dermatology in The University Hospital of Vigo. She is an advisor to the European Society on Infectious Diseases in Obstetrics and Gynecology (ESIDOG). She is an advisor to the Galician school health administration on Sexually Transmitted Infectious. She is a consultant to the Galician Government (Public Health Direction) on sexually transmitted infectious. She is the president of the Spanish society for the study of STD and AIDS and the Vice President of the Galician Society for Study and Research of HPV. Director of the Psychodermatology group of Cilad, and member of the Fostering Specialist Skills Committee of the European Academy of Dermatology. Principal Scientist Efficiency, quality and costs in Health Services Research Group (EFISALUD), Galicia Sur Health Research Institute (IIS Galicia Sur). SERGAS-UVIGO. Member of the Skills Fostering Courses of EADV. She has just named President of EWDS for for years.

She is a member of the editorial board or reviewer of the: International Journal of Dermatology and Dermocosmetic, Ibero-Latin American Sexually Transmitted Diseases (STDs), Cutaneous Medicine (publication of the Ibero-Latin American College of Dermatology), MAS Dermatology and The Open Dermatology journal. She is a reviewer of AIDS and Behaviour Journal, TAF Preventive Medecine Bulletin, Traslation Biomedicine Journal and JPHE journal, Actas dermosifiliográficas, JEAD.