

24TH WORLD CONGRESS
OF DERMATOLOGY
MILAN 2019

JASON CHIH-HSUN YANG

accomplished his dermatology training at the Chang Gung Memorial Hospital in 1999. He was a clinical and research fellow in John Hopkins University back in year 2000 and received surgical fellowship training in Toranomon Hospital in year 2001. Dr Yang's special interest is in skin cancer, varicose vein and nail surgery. He has authored more than a hundred publications that are mainly focusing on the treatment of varicose vein and specialized in cutaneous melanoma and other dermatologic surgery.

Dr Yang was the director of the Dermatology Department and Cosmetic center, Chang Gung Memorial Hospital since 2007 and the Professor of the College of Medicine, Chang Gung University. He is actively involved in many professional activities and international collaborations. Due to his contributions, he was elected as the President of Taiwan Dermatological Association in 2012~2105. Dr Yang directed numerous teaching workshops in dermatology surgery, nail surgery, laser techniques etc. He is currently actively involved in the education of dermoscopy utilization in the Taiwanese Dermatological Association.