

TAMIO SUZUKI

Education:

- 1984 M.D. Yamagata University School of Medicine, Yamagata, Japan
1988 Ph.D. Yamagata University Graduate School of Medicine, Yamagata, Japan

Position and Employment:

- 1988-1991 Postdoctoral fellow, Biochemistry, Yamagata University
1991-1992 Dermatology resident, Nagoya University Hospital
1992-1996 Training of dermatologist, Toyohashi Municipal Hospital
1996-1998 Chief Dermatologist, Tajimi Gifu-Prefectural Hospital
1998 Staff Dermatologist, Nagoya University Hospital
1998-2001 Postdoctoral fellow, University of Colorado Health Science Center, Human Molecular Genetics Program (Prof. Spritz R.A.)
2001 Staff Dermatologist, Nagoya University Hospital
2002-2004 Assistant Professor, Department of Dermatology, Nagoya University Graduate School of Medicine
2004-2007 Associate Professor, Department of Dermatology, Nagoya University Graduate School of Medicine
2007-present Professor and Chairman, Department of Dermatology, Yamagata University Faculty of Medicine

My scientific concerns: melanogenesis, oculocutaneous albinism, vitiligo, color of skin, pigmentation of skin

Professional society:

Japanese Dermatological Association
The Japanese Society for Investigative Dermatology
Japanese Society for Pigment Cell Research
The Japan Society of Human Genetics
Society for Skin Structure Research
Japanese Society for Psoriasis Research
Japanese Skin Cancer Society
Society for Investigative Dermatology
The American Society of human Genetics