

24TH WORLD CONGRESS
OF DERMATOLOGY
MILAN 2019

MILAGROS MORENO

obtained a doctorate degree in medicine at the Universidad Nacional Pedro Henríquez Ureña (UNPHU) and her specialty in Dermatology and Venereology at the Instituto Dermatológico Dominicano y Cirugía de Piel Dr. Huberto Bogaert Díaz (IDDCP-HBD), Santo Domingo, Dom. Rep.

She is currently a consulting physician and a postgraduate professor in the IDDCP-HBD.

She also works as a professor of dermatology and clinical counseling in research work at the Universidad Autónoma de Santo Domingo (UASD), Universidad Iberoamericana (UNIBE) and the Universidad Nacional Pedro Henríquez Ureña (UNPHU), where she also coordinates the rotation in dermatology for exchange students of the University of Columbia, New York, USA.

She was coordinator of the dermatology postgraduate program and member of the teaching council of the IDDCP-HBD for a period of 10 years.

She is a member of the Colegio Médico Dominicano (CMD), where she served as a member of the disciplinary committee and as the secretary of medical education and publications.

She is a member of the Dominican Society of Dermatology (SDD) where she was secretary, member of the ethics committee and member of the public relations committee, among others.

She is a member of the Central American Society of Dermatology, where she represented the Dominican Republic.

She is a member of the Ibero-American College of Dermatology (CILAD).

Currently, she is the delegate of the Dominican Republic for the Annual Meeting of Latin American Dermatologists (RADLA).